Which strength, and fitted to which observations?